GIORGIO VASARI – In his “Lives of the Artists,” Vasari published the first biography of his contemporary, Michelangelo. He extolled the sculptures, paintings and architecture that this dominant force of the 16th century produced.

As you admire the artist’s “David,” “Moses,” “Pietas” and Medici tombs in this fully illustrated presentation, you will also hear the comments that Vasari provided for each, emphasizing their power and uniqueness, and suggesting the legacy they would continue to provide in future centuries.

JOAN LIPTON, Ph.D. – Dr. Joan Lipton, an art historian and lecturer, has held numerous workshops for colleges, alumni associations, adult education centers and libraries in New York and New Jersey. She is pleased to share her knowledge and enthusiasm now with Florida audiences in topics ranging from artists of the Renaissance to the 21st century from Europe and America. She has a master’s degree from Hunter College, New York, with a specialization in the Renaissance. She also earned a master’s degree and doctorate from The Graduate Center of the City of New York, with a specialization in 19th- and 20th-century art. A world traveler, she has lectured to students and adults in Spain and Italy.

... FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.
